

WHAT IS THAT, MOTHER?

What is that, Mother?
 "The Lark, my child,
 The morn has but just dawned,
 And in its hazy, glassy nest,
 And is up and away with the dew on its breast,
 And a hymn in its heart, to you pure, bright sphere,
 To render it out in its Maker's ear.
 Ever, my child, be thy morn's first lays
 Turned, like the Lark's, to thy Maker's praise."

What is that, Mother?
 "The Dove, my son,
 And that low, sweet voice, like a widow's moan,
 Is flowing out from her gentle breast,
 Constant and pure by that lonely nest,
 As the wind is poured from some crystal urn,
 For a distant dear one's quick return:
 Ever, my son, be thou like the Dove,
 In friendship as faithful, as constant in love."

What is that, Mother?
 "The Eagle, my son,
 Proudly soaring his course of joy,
 From his mountain vantage point,
 Breasting the dark storm, the red bolt of lightning,
 His wing on the wind, and his eye on the sun,
 He sweeps not a hair, but bears onward, right on.
 By, my son, the Eagle's flight ever be thine,
 Onward and upward, true to the line."

What is that, Mother?
 "The Swan, my love,
 He is floating down his native grove,
 No oval one now, no nestling high;
 He is floating down by himself to die;
 Death darkens his eye, and unclasp his wings,
 Yet the sweetest song is the last he sings.
 Love, my love, then Death shall come,
 Swan-like and sweet, it may wait there home."

PROSPECTUS OF THE NATIONAL MAGAZINE AND REPUBLICAN REVIEW.

H. J. BRENT, ESQ. EDITOR.

THE NATIONAL MAGAZINE AND REPUBLICAN REVIEW will be published in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, on the 1st day of January next, and thereafter monthly in all parts of the United States, devoted exclusively to the advancement of the great principles of the Whig party, and the encouragement of literature and science.

The experience of the past year has confirmed in the minds of the more reflecting and sagacious of the Whig party that a vacuum exists in the periodical press of the country, in which should be combined the productions of our great statesmen on literary and scientific subjects, and those of the eminent literary geniuses of which the United States can boast so ample a share, on the various subjects that present themselves to a sound and vigorous intellect.

It cannot be doubted that the present crisis demands the publication of a work calculated to inform and circulate true and honest political information, and to counteract the detrimental influence exerted by a monthly periodical of a similar nature published in this city, and the disciples, and bearing the name of the self-styled Democracy of the present day, advocating measures which, it is essential, are destined to founder to ruin the fabric of our noble Constitution, by placing constructions on it to subvert the caprice and advance the teachings of a corrupt anti-bi.

The union of such principles with a general literature as have insulted the common sense and honesty of the country, by proclaiming the "Martyrdom of Calley," rendered in a manner more detestable than the insidious way in which they are combined, tends directly to the disorganization of all that, as Americans, should be held most sacred. This combination is calculated to secure a circulation in quarters to which they might not otherwise penetrate, as well as from a certain deceptive force of high-toned patriotism, and expansive liberality of views, with which they are actually able to invest themselves, for the purpose of steering their way into the hearts through the unsuspecting hearts of that class or class which depends the destiny and hope of the nation—its young men. Whilst the more experienced sagacity of older heads can never hesitate a moment in recognizing the real naked deformity of these principles of modern Radicalism, under all the fair-sounding disguises they may assume, yet to the young they are repulsive with a subtle danger of the most perilous character.

The National Magazine and Republican Review is designed, and will be conducted with these and other important considerations in view, calculated to correct misconceptions, and to mediate the correct political principles on which are based the views and practice of the great Republican Whig party, as well as for the encouragement and maintenance of genuine political literature. The publishers will neither spare expense in the mechanical department of the Review, nor their utmost efforts to render the Review useful to the Public in a literary point of view, and honorable to the country and cause which it is destined to espouse as a National work.

The period is fast arriving when the country will emerge from the domination of a party which has come into power under the corrupt influence of a misdirected popular prejudice, and which has advocated and aided under the head and corrupt name of office-seekers, "the victors belong to the vanquished," being alike and a republican, uncorrupt, and a faithful ally upon the free institutions of the country, that can only be eradicated by the triumph of the principles which govern the Republican Whig party of the present day.

The advocates of the principles alluded to, who have stood foremost in defence of the Constitution and Laws when they were as diminutive as a party could be, exerting the strength of a Hercules battling with the host of Xerxes, and have now succeeded in securing the Government from the grasp of corruption, will deem it their imperative duty to continue their efforts, and it cannot better be done than by supporting a periodical of high standing for sound political principles and literary worth; and such a one will be found in the National Magazine and Republican Review.

The success of the Magazine will therefore depend, in a measure, on the great body of the opponents of the present Administration, whose interest it will be to aid in its permanent establishment. And it will be equally binding on the talented and patriotic band of leading Whigs to spare neither time nor labor to the explanation and advocacy of the true and only principles on which the Government can prosper, and on the success of which depends the great experiment of Republican Government.

Having made these few remarks on the political cast of the publication, we feel confident that its utility will be readily perceived by the Public, and fully appreciated. In addition to the political features, the following will be the principal subjects on which the Review will treat from the pens of most celebrated writers of the present day—

Reviews and Critical Notices will occupy a portion of its pages, thereby giving praise to genius, and censure to such productions only as are richly deserving of it.

A Sketch of the Proceedings of Congress will be given at the close of each session, in which will be explained the cause and effect of all prominent acts and measures, compiled by a gentleman of acknowledged ability and opportunity to arrange and collect such matters as will prove both interesting and instructive.

Election Returns will be given in a tabular form, embracing all elections of importance in the various States, as early as practicable after the reception of official returns.

Essays and Tales will also form an important part of the work, and all original articles of this character will receive prompt attention. The object of the publishers, next to enlightening the good cause in which they have embarked, will be to furnish the reader with such matters as will both instruct and amuse; such as—

Sketches and Reminiscences of events too minute for history.

Biographical and Historical Sketches of distinguished personages, &c.

Original Poetry will be well sprinkled through its pages.

Engravings of Distinguished Statesmen—If the work should receive the same encouragement as is usually extended to periodicals of a literary and scientific character, the subscribers to the Review will not only find their numbers embellished with these desirable plates, but also with many other valuable improvements.

TERMS.

THE NATIONAL MAGAZINE AND REPUBLICAN REVIEW will be published in monthly numbers of eighty octavo pages each, on fine paper, with new and handsome engravings, and the most approved type. Two dollars a year, payable in all cases in advance, or on the delivery of the third number, without respect to persons.

Any person forwarding ten respectable subscribers and becoming responsible for the amount of their subscriptions for the first year, shall receive a copy gratis as long as they may continue subscribers.

The publishers will be responsible for all moneys forwarded by mail, in case of miscarriage, provided the certificate of the Postmaster shall be secured, and copies forwarded accordingly.

A subscriber shall not order his subscription to be discontinued at the expiration of the year, he shall be considered as wishing the Review continued, which shall be forwarded, and the subscription money expected on the receipt of the third number, as in the first instance.

No subscription taken for a less term than one year.

All communications, post paid, addressed to the publishers at their residence, Georgetown, D. C., will receive prompt attention.

PUBLISHERS OF NEWSPAPERS who will copy the foregoing prospectus will receive a copy of the work in exchange, and also confer a lasting favor upon the proprietors.

FULTON & SMITH.

GEORGETOWN, D. C.

It is the earnest request of the publishers that correspondents will forward their contributions for the Review at the earliest possible moment.

PROPOSALS

For publishing in the City of Washington a weekly newspaper, to be devoted to the interests of RELIGION and LITERATURE, to be called

THE METROPOLITAN CHURCHMAN

REV. PHILIP SLAUGHTER, EDITOR.

When a Minister of the Lord Jesus Christ ceases to preach the Gospel, a decent respect for the opinions of the Church and the world requires that he should declare the causes which impel him to take this step. In the present case the Editor was arrested in his ministerial functions by the hand of disease, and his voice hushed by the precept of the physician. He is driven, therefore, by an imperative necessity to do something for the support of his family. Shall he go back to the world and resume his secular pursuits? Most secular occupations would be as incompatible with the state of his health, as revealing to his feelings and principles.

The only alternative, then, is to adopt that mode of life which is most kindred to his profession, and which, next to the living voice of the preacher, seems to be the most fitting instrument to promote the glory of God, and the happiness of his creatures. In his judgment, a religious press is that instrument—the press being confessedly one of the mightiest levers that moves this mortal world. He has chosen Washington as the locality of this press for various reasons. It is a centre from whence roads and canals radiate to every point on our extensive territory, affording opportunities of erecting the speedy communication of various directions in the Union. Secondly, as the political metropolis of this great Nation, it is the source of nearly all moral influences for evil or for good. Every interest in the country is beginning to appreciate the importance of this fact. Newspapers, magazines, and pamphlets, expressing every variety of opinion, in politics, morals and religion, are daily going forth as missionaries to every State, town, county, and family of this great Nation, fixing the principles, and moulding the manners of its citizens. Under these circumstances he has thought that the establishment of the Churchman would be like to see a pure establishment at the great centre of moral influences, displaying the emblems of the Gospel, and inscribed with the motto of that Church which was built upon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, and which says to the angry spirit of error, which is beating against her bulwarks, and battering down the walls of other societies, "Thou shalt thy proud waves be stayed."

The general design of this paper will be the advancement of society in knowledge and religion; and to this end the Editor will endeavor to furnish his readers with the best of literature as in the walls of the Church, has been secured.

As to the peculiar view of the Editor in Religion, it is enough to say that he is a Minister of the Episcopal Church, and that it will be his continual aim to maintain that Church in her integrity, to exhibit, illustrate, and defend her distinctive features, and to hand her down to our children inviolate, as we received her from our fathers.

P. S.—This paper will contain a weekly summary of such acts of Congress and other facts of public interest, and such pieces and reviews of the current literature of the day, as will not be unbecoming its religious professions.

TERMS.—Three dollars per annum, payable on delivery of the first number.

All Episcopal Clergymen who approve the design of this paper, are desired to act as its agents, or to procure agents for it in their respective parishes, desiring them to forward the names of subscribers to the Editor at Georgetown, D. C.

Publishers throughout the country will confer a favor by becoming agents.

THE SOUTHERN SILK MANUAL, and Farmer's Magazine.—This work will be published under the auspices of a number of gentlemen actively engaged in the cultivation of the silkworm, and the raising of the silkworm, and the manufacture of silk. It will be edited by E. YEATES REESE, and furnished to subscribers at one dollar per annum.

Ample arrangements have been made, and correspondence invited, to enable the editor to present a work containing all the information necessary to the planting and cultivation of the trees, the feeding of the worms, and the successful management of the entire silk business. The work will also contain valuable information on agriculture and farming generally.

I will be the particular object of the editor to promote the interests of those engaged in the silk culture in the Southern and Western States; as there the cultivator possesses peculiar advantages in respect to climate, soil, &c.

Orders by Letter (post paid) with the subscription for the year, will receive prompt attention. Address E. Yeates Reese, Baltimore.

Persons desiring to have the above valuable work can be supplied by calling at my store, near the 7 Buildings, Dec. 8

ANDERSON'S POLISHING PASTE.—For polishing plated ware, brass, and other metals, Anderson's Composition has attained a high celebrity. The following testimonials, from many, are selected—

"I forward the following testimonial to the Editor of the 'Metropolitan Churchman,' as it is a most valuable article for the purpose, and I am pleased to recommend the same to our customers."

STEEL & WARREN, Hardware Merchants, Albany.

This is to certify, that we have made use of Mr. Anderson's Composition for cleaning silver and brass plate, and have no hesitation in saying that it is the best method we have ever used, and recommend the same to others.

A. WALLACE, Coach and Harness Maker, Saratoga.

This is to certify, that we have used Mr. Anderson's Powder for polishing plated ware, and find it the best article of the kind that we ever used.

WHITNEY & HOYT, 380, Pearl Street, New York.

I have examined and tried Mr. Wm. Anderson's Chemical Powder for polishing silver, brass, and other metals. It proves an excellent article for the above purpose, and I am pleased to recommend the same.

LEWIS A. LAIRAT, Chemist and Refiner of Metals, Boston.

This is to certify, that I have used Mr. Anderson's Powder or polishing plate-ware, and also, the Paste for brass, &c., and it proved to be an excellent article for the above purpose, and I am pleased to recommend the same to the public.

JOSEPH MITCHELL, 362, Pearl Street, New York.

This is to certify, that I have used Anderson's Paste and Powder, for cleaning brass and plated ware, and can safely say that it exceeds any thing I have ever before.

WM. HINTON, 184, Broadway, New York.

I have been using for the last three weeks, Anderson's Chemical Paste for the cleaning of silver and brass, and believe it to be the best composition in use for the purpose intended.

D. D. HOWARD, Exchange Hotel, New York.

Having made trial of Anderson's Composition in polishing Britannia ware, which we manufacture, we feel satisfied that it is a good article.

BROADMAN & HART, Burling Slip, New York.

I have made use of Anderson's Paste and Powder, and find it a very valuable article, and do most cheerfully recommend it to persons wanting the article.

DAVID DORRANCE, United States Hotel.
